I. Policy Statement

Philippine National Bank (“PNB”, the “Bank”) subscribes to the highest standards of corporate governance as we believe that good governance supports long-term value creation. PNB adheres to the values of integrity, ethics, and good governance in the conduct of its business and affairs in order to strengthen the safety and soundness of its operations, which in turn, increases public confidence and trust.

PNB is committed to a corporate governance framework guided by the principle that:

“Good governance needs to be embedded in the corporate culture as deeply as the desired corporate goals of achieving the revenue targets and expense management and in the process preserve the franchise value of the Bank.”

Our corporate governance framework is anchored on accountability, prudence, ethics, and responsible business practices cutting across all levels of the enterprise. This framework is designed to provide a solid foundation for the consistent conduct of our affairs and withstand the demands of strict and rigorous supervision, examination, disclosure, and best practices.

This Corporate Governance Manual and the policies contained herein document PNB’s obligations and expectations in institutionalizing the principles of good corporate governance in the entire PNB Group. These are reinforced regularly at all levels of the Bank.

Furthermore, this Manual provides guidance for employees on good corporate governance practices. Generally, these guidelines are principles-based and are not prescriptive. Hence, directors, advisors, officers and employees are expected to exercise judgment in evaluating whether heightened standards should be adopted, taking into consideration the nature and complexity of the particular area of responsibility.

The provisions of this Manual are aligned and consistent with the requirements of the following laws, rules, regulations and prevailing best practices:

- a. Relevant provisions of the Manual of Regulations for Banks (MORB), as amended, and other issuances of the BSP not yet incorporated in the MORB;
- b. SEC Memorandum Circular No. 19, Series of 2016: Code of Corporate Governance for Publicly Listed Companies;
- c. Republic Act No. 11232 otherwise known as the Revised Corporation Code of the Philippines, and its implementing rules and regulations;
- d. ASEAN Corporate Governance Scorecard; and
- e. PNB’s Amended By-laws, Articles of Incorporation, and other internal policies and procedures

The provisions of this Manual apply to the Bank’s directors, advisors, officers, and employees in the head office, domestic branches and subsidiaries, and, if applicable depending on the host country rules, overseas branches/offices and foreign subsidiaries as well.

II. Corporate Governance Structure

Good governance is led from the top by the Board of Directors and cascaded throughout PNB. As a matter of policy, a Board member is expected to remain fit and proper for the position of a director for the duration of his term, in accordance with the requirements and qualifications set out in the MORB. Towards this end, the Bank believes that adopting a fixed limit on director tenure is counterproductive as it may lead to retirement of qualified and well-seasoned directors.

The director has the burden to prove that he possesses all the minimum qualifications and none of the disqualifications set forth in this MORB. He shall continue to be mentally and physically fit to perform his responsibilities, manifested by his attendance and active participation during Board meetings, continuing training and education, and continued dialogue with other directors and key officers of the Bank, among others.

3. Specific Duties and Responsibilities of a Director³⁴

The position of a director is a position of trust. A director assumes certain responsibilities to different constituencies or stakeholders, i.e., the Bank itself, its stockholders, its depositors and other creditors, its management and employees, the regulators, deposit insurer and the public at large. These constituencies or stakeholders have the right to expect that the institution is being run in a prudent and sound manner. The members of the Board of Directors should exercise their “duty of care” and “duty of loyalty” to the institution.

- 3.1. To remain fit and proper for the position for the duration of his term. A director is expected to remain fit and proper for the position for the duration of his term. He should possess unquestionable credibility to make decisions objectively and resist undue influence. He shall treat board directorship as a profession and shall have a clear understanding of his duties and responsibilities as well as his role in promoting good governance. Hence, he shall maintain his professional integrity and continuously seek to enhance his skills, knowledge and understanding of the activities that the bank is engaged in or intends to pursue as well as the developments in the banking industry including regulatory changes through continuing education or training.

³⁴ Section 132, Manual of Regulations for Banks

- 3.2. To conduct fair business transactions with the BSFI and to ensure that personal interest does not bias board decisions. Directors should, whenever possible, avoid situations that would give rise to a conflict of interest. If transactions with the institution cannot be avoided, it should be done in the regular course of business and upon terms not less favorable to the institution than those offered to others. The basic principle to be observed is that a director should not use his position to make profit or to acquire benefit or advantage for himself and/or his related interests. He should avoid situations that would compromise his impartiality.
- 3.3. To act honestly and in good faith, with loyalty and in the best interest of the institution, its stockholders, regardless of the amount of their stockholdings, and other stakeholders such as its depositors, investors, borrowers, other clients and the general public. A director must always act in good faith, with the care which an ordinarily prudent man would exercise under similar circumstances. While a director should always strive to promote the interest of all stockholders, he should also give due regard to the rights and interests of other stakeholders.
- 3.4. To devote time and attention necessary to properly discharge their duties and responsibilities. Directors should devote sufficient time to familiarize themselves with the institution's business. They must be constantly aware of the institution's condition and be knowledgeable enough to contribute meaningfully to the board's work. They must attend and actively participate in board and committee meetings, request and review meeting materials, ask questions, and request explanations. If a person cannot give sufficient time and attention to the affairs of the institution, he should neither accept his nomination nor run for election as member of the board.
- 3.5. To act judiciously. Before deciding on any matter brought before the board of directors, every director should thoroughly evaluate the issues, ask questions and seek clarifications when necessary.
- 3.6. To contribute significantly to the decision-making process of the board. Directors should actively participate and exercise objective independent judgment on corporate affairs requiring the decision or approval of such board.
- 3.7. To exercise independent judgment. A director should view each problem/situation objectively. When a disagreement with others occurs, he should carefully evaluate the situation and state his position. He should not be afraid to take a position even though it might be unpopular. Corollarily, he should support plans and ideas that he thinks will be beneficial to the institution.

- 3.8. To have a working knowledge of the statutory and regulatory requirements affecting the institution, including the content of its articles of incorporation and by-laws, the requirements of the Bangko Sentral and where applicable, the requirements of other regulatory agencies. A director should also keep himself informed of the industry developments and business trends in order to safeguard the institution's competitiveness.
- 3.9. To observe confidentiality. Directors must observe the confidentiality of non-public information acquired by reason of their position as directors. They may not disclose said information to any other person without the authority of the board.

The Corporate Secretary shall furnish first-time directors with a copy of the specific duties and responsibilities of the Board of Directors and as an individual director prescribed under Section 132 of the MORB, upon election. The Corporate Secretary must keep on file certification under oath of the directors concerned that they have received copies of such specific duties and responsibilities and that they fully understand and accept the same.

4. Term Limit³⁵

- 4.1. An independent director of the Bank may only serve as such for a maximum cumulative term of nine (9) years. After which, the independent director shall be perpetually barred from serving as independent director in the Bank, but may continue to serve as regular director.
- 4.2. The nine (9) year maximum cumulative term for independent directors shall be reckoned from 2012.
